

Dear MSU Colleagues;

It is with great enthusiasm that I write to you today with additional information about the upcoming MSU Faculty Symposium: Inspiring Excellence in Teaching and Learning, to be held Thursday, Nov. 8 from 8 am to 5 pm in the SUB Ballrooms.

The event will feature some of MSU's most innovative, successful faculty and supporters providing lively, engaging talks and panel discussions. The symposium's preliminary agenda includes interactive sessions on:

- Teaching Innovation
- Service Learning
- Active Learning
- Teaching with Technology

The symposium will include a sumptuous lunch including a discussion that you do not want to miss, followed by a reception with refreshments and demonstrations in the innovative Barnard Hall lobby. This event is free and open to all faculty, staff and graduate students of MSU.

RSVP at this link: montana.edu/rsvp/teaching

I encourage you to join us as we are inspired by some of the best and newest ideas from your fellow faculty. I will be following-up soon with additional details about each session. For now, please reserve November 8 on your calendar – I assure you it will be time well spent.

Thank you for your steadfast pursuit of excellence as we work together to advance our Land Grant mission.

Most sincerely,

Robert Mokwa
Executive Vice President and Provost
Montana State University